

Tutorial 1

SE -II semester

Subject: Web Technology

1. Explain about www and internet. How is domain name conversion carried out?
2. Why graphics are important in web pages? Discuss about the basic formats of images that can be used in web.
3. Can we create an image as a hyperlink? Explain. What are the different methods for specifying an URL?
4. What are the different types of list used in HTML? Write HTML code to create the following list

f. City

g. University

- Pokhara University

iii) Science and Technology

J. B. E.

K. B. Sc.

L. B. Pharm.

iv) Management

v) Humanities

- Tribhuvan University

- Kathmandu University

h. Hotel

5. Differentiate between the logical and physical tags with example
6. Differentiate between the relative pathname versus absolute pathnames with example. Explain their usability
7. Write HTML CODE to create the following table

A	D	F	I
C		G		J
B	E		H	K

8. Construct an HTML form to intake the user information. The user needs to provide his/her name, country, sex, email, marital status, interest and comment etc. Use appropriate form elements like textbox, textarea, radio button, drop downlist etc.
9. List any ten html tags used for text formatting, also mention when each tags are used
10. What do you understand by a URL? Show what each segment signifies in the following url.
http:// www. Example.com /example/chapter1.htm
11. What is the significant of mail to link in HTML page? Explain the real field application of “mail to” link with an appropriate example.
12. How can you accomplish the following tasks:
 - i) offer alternate text when images don't appear
 - ii) link a small icon to larger image
 - iii) add space around an image
 - iv) specify the space between paragraph
13. Give an example of how to use superscript, subscript, address, blockquote and legend tags in Web document.

14. What are the different levels of style sheets with their hierarchy of implementation to a file? Explain the DIV and SPAN tags with a valid and detailed example.
15. List the different MIME headers and explain them.

[Date: 21/4/2022]

[Submission date: 5/5/2022]

[Note: Write all answers in your own words. If someone's answers found to be copied from friends, their submission will be regarded invalid]